

FIDOCK HANDCRAFTED DRUMS

COMPANY BACKGROUND

Fidock Handcrafted Drums was established by Stephan Fidock, a drummer who has worked with some of the leading Australian bands and musicians since the late 1970s.

Stephan Fidock has played in just about every venue across Australia, from small country town pubs to the largest concert venues. He has also recorded with some of the leading engineers and producers in both Melbourne and Sydney.

That means a lot of snares have been bought, hired, borrowed and sold on the way through. As a drummer he knows "if the snare isn't happening, nothing else is."

And so a passion for drums and a well developed understanding of the features which distinguish a great snare led to a fortunate dialogue between Stephan and master craftsman Charlie Sandford. From there, Fidock Handcrafted Drums was born, a cohesive and talented team dedicated to ongoing innovation and the pursuit of excellence in wood snare drums and hoops.

The workshop where each drum is handcrafted to perfection under the guiding hands of Stephan and Charlie is nestled amongst gum trees in the gentle hills on the outskirts of Melbourne, Australia.

With the finest hand selected tonal timbers, a meticulous construction process and with no concession in the choice of parts, Fidock Handcrafted Drums make a snare like no other.
